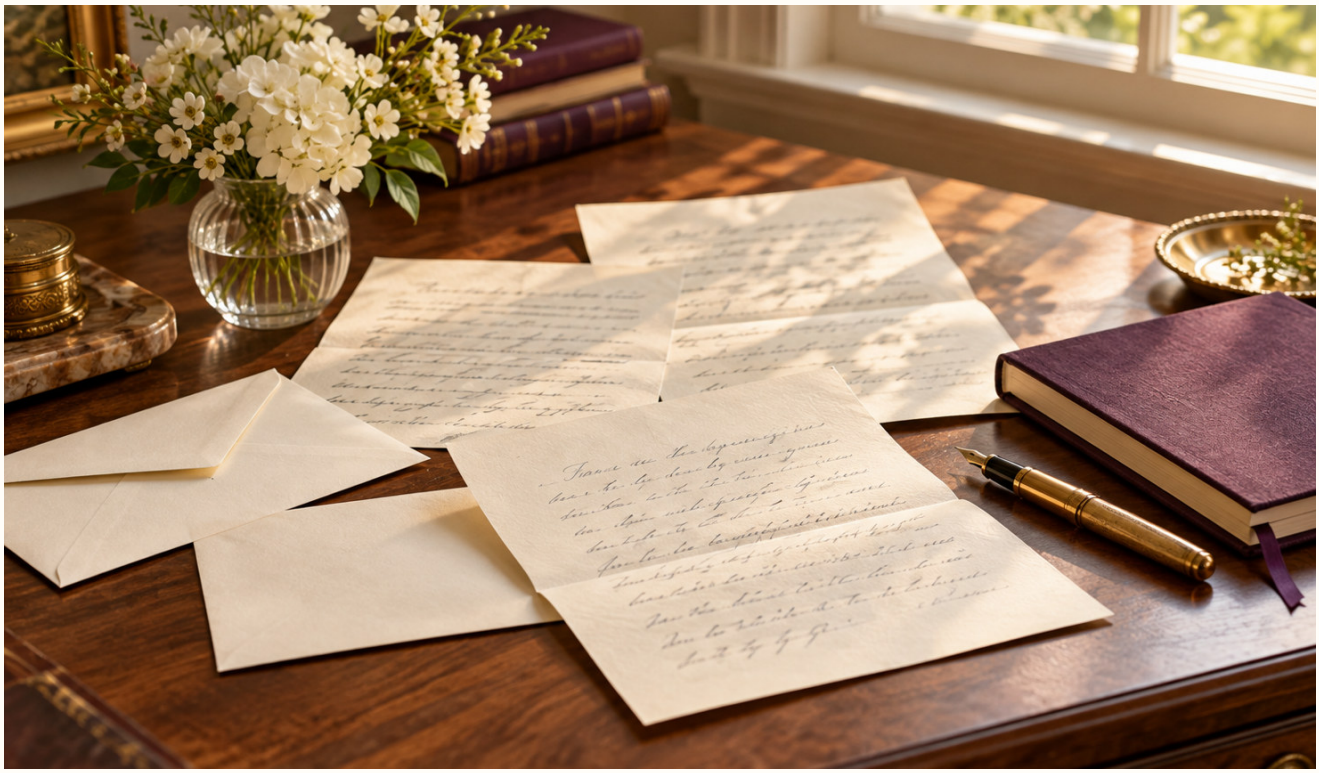
SCALAR LIGHT / READING COLLECTION

INSPIRED BY TOM PALADINO

Scalar Energy for the World

Volume 6

Readers’ Letters & Words of Appreciation



> Selected words about communication, learning and the human side of Tom’s work.

An adapted selection from the original testimonial booklet.
Exact non-medical excerpts, with context.
Personal accounts are not evidence of medical effects.

BEFORE YOU BEGIN

A note on this edition

Inspired by Tom Paladino, this booklet revisits the sixth volume of Scalar Energy for the World, originally titled What People Are Saying About Scalar Energy. That volume brought together 30 customer accounts.

This edition is a selected adaptation, not a full reprint. It retains three short, exact excerpts about updates and communication. Medical-outcome portions of those letters, and the other health-outcome testimonials, are not reproduced. No customer's words have been rewritten into a new endorsement.

HOW TO READ THESE PAGES

The excerpts express individual views at the time they were written. They do not establish medical effects, typical results or what another person should expect. Scalar Light is a non-medical wellness service for personal and spiritual exploration, not a substitute for healthcare. [2]

Inside this booklet

Words of Appreciation 03

Personal Accounts in Perspective 04

Exploring on Your Own Terms 05

Tom Paladino & Further Exploration 06

Sources & Notes on the Selection 07

01 / SELECTED ORIGINAL WORDS

Words of Appreciation

Three service-focused excerpts from the original collection.

These passages retain the writers' words. They concern communication and updates, not evidence that Scalar Light changes health.

> "I want to start by saying that I appreciate your daily emails with updates and all the good information you have shared with me."

APM | Excerpt from original account 22, printed page 16

> "I've watched and listened to many interviews and your ability to effortlessly explain complex topics and be 100% clear and consistent is a testament to your hard work, dedication, and passion."

FP | Excerpt from original account 23, printed page 16

> "P.S. Your updates are something I very much look forward to!"

Unsigned letter | Excerpt from original account 11, printed page 9

These are selected passages, not the complete letters. The medical claims elsewhere in those accounts are not reproduced or endorsed here. Clarity of explanation is a reader's assessment, not scientific validation of an explanation.

02 / CONTEXT & EVIDENCE

Personal Accounts in Perspective

A sincere experience and a demonstrated effect are different things.

Concept artwork about careful reading; not a depiction of customer records.

The original introduction invited readers to decide whether Scalar Light worked by reading the testimonials. This edition takes a different approach: a personal story can tell us what someone noticed or believed, but it cannot establish what caused a health change.

Other care, changes in routine, the passage of time and natural variation may all matter. Selected positive accounts also do not tell us how often an outcome occurred among everyone who participated.

Reports of laboratory results need clinical context and qualified interpretation. They should not be treated as proof that a wellness service cured an infection. Likewise, a reported absence of symptoms is not, by itself, evidence that a condition has been eliminated.

WHAT RELIABLE EVIDENCE ASKS

Health claims need appropriate research, not simply a collection of positive stories. NCCIH’s “Know the Science” resources explain why anecdotes and scientific evidence should be distinguished. [3]

03 / INFORMED PARTICIPATION

Exploring on Your Own Terms

Keep personal interest separate from medical decisions.

Concept artwork about reflection; no health outcome is implied.

You do not need to identify with someone else’s account to make a decision about a non-medical service. Start with what is actually offered, the themes that interest you and the practical terms of participation.

Understand the service

Scalar Light uses a submitted photograph in remote sessions. Review the selected program, duration, price and billing terms before registering. [2]

Avoid a results timetable

A testimonial’s timeline does not predict your experience. There is no particular sensation or outcome you should expect, and longer participation does not guarantee a result. [2]

Keep healthcare decisions with healthcare

Do not stop or reduce medication because of a testimonial. New or worsening symptoms should not be assumed to be “detox” or proof that a session is working. Seek appropriate medical advice. [2]

04 / THE LEGACY

Tom Paladino & Further Exploration

Tom Paladino developed the ideas behind Scalar Light. His original biography describes independent study inspired by Tesla, Hieronymus, Moray and Priore. His work brought together instruments, photographs and spiritual beliefs.

The original letters show that some correspondents valued hearing from Tom and learning about his ideas. Preserving those words keeps part of the human story without turning it into a promise of healing or a medical endorsement.

The service today

Scalar Light describes its offering as a remote, photograph-based wellness service for personal and spiritual exploration. Tom’s explanations belong to his theoretical and spiritual framework and are not established medical mechanisms. [2]

A CLEAR HEALTHCARE BOUNDARY

Scalar Light does not provide medical diagnosis or treatment. Personal accounts must not be used to conclude that an infection has cleared, a condition is cured or prescribed care is no longer needed.

Keep exploring

Service questions and photograph guidance

Explore the 15-day introductory option

About Tom Paladino

REFERENCE NOTES

Sources & Notes on the Selection

Preserving words without preserving unsupported promises.

1. Original collection
Scalar Energy for the World, Vol. 6: What People Are Saying About Scalar Energy. Source for the 30 original accounts, attribution initials and selected passages. Printed page numbers refer to the original, not this adaptation. Read source

2. Current service description
Scalar Light FAQ. Remote participation, program terms, personal impressions, health questions and scientific evidence. Read source

3. Understanding health information
National Center for Complementary and Integrative Health, “Know the Science”. Resources distinguishing anecdotes from evidence and evaluating health information. This reference is not an endorsement of Scalar Light. Read source

What was retained

All 30 original accounts were reviewed. Only the selected non-medical passages from accounts 11, 22 and 23 are reproduced. Wording and original initials are retained; line breaks and surrounding quotation marks are set for this layout. The account numbers allow the excerpts to be traced to the source.

What was excluded

The remaining testimonials and medical-outcome portions of the three selected letters are excluded from this public edition. This includes disease-cure, symptom-relief, medication-withdrawal, rapid-recovery, pathogen-removal, veterinary and adverse-symptom-as-“detox” claims. They have not been rewritten into safer-sounding testimonials. Reuse of the excluded material would require separate health-claim review.

Images & adaptation

The letters, careful-reading scene and journal are AI-generated concept illustrations, not scans of customer letters or images of customers. Tom’s image was supplied for this edition. The explanatory prose is newly adapted; no testimonial or clinical result has been invented.

Adapted edition prepared October 2026. Inspired by Tom Paladino and the original collection; this is a selected edition, not a full reproduction.